Madeleine's: A Fusion Restaurant

Why: Madeleine's sets a romantic tone from the moment you set your fashionably clad foot in the door. Elegant yet understated, the historic building has a warm, comfortable vibe with just the right amount of formal undertones. The small seating area makes for a quiet dining experience – occasionally interrupted with muted “oohs” and “ahhs” from fellow patrons receiving their lavishly garnished plates. The gourmet creations of owner and chef Tim Mills – who named the restaurant after his daughter – will make you and your dining companion feel loved.

What to Order: The menu at Madeleine's changes weekly – featuring different countries' cuisines, but ordering the special or one of Mills' delicious lamb entrees is always a sure thing. And Mills can custom-design a dinner for you; if you call ahead he'll create a menu to suit your needs.

Conversation Starter: Did you know that Madeleine's now has not only Indiana's largest selection of premium sakes, but a full bar as well?

Best Table in the House: Ask for a table in the cozy and incredibly well-stocked wine cellar.

After Dinner: Luck appears to be on your side – after all, you got her – give it a chance again and try your luck at a game of blackjack at Casino Aztar, located in Downtown Evansville.
